

The Ultimate Gamble

Gambling is a chancy venture where something is risked on an unknown outcome. On any uncertainty you can bet small or you can bet large - but would you be willing to bet your life on one toss of a coin or roll of a dice? Most would not be so foolish.

Those who don't believe in God are betting 'everything' on when they die there is 'nothing' and they will simply cease to exist.

WHAT IF death isn't the exit door to existence?

WHAT IF we have a soul that doesn't die and continues into eternity?

WHAT IF there is a meaning to life?

The truth is no one can physically prove God exists but, equally, no one can prove He doesn't. Ever-changing theories of evolution are based on either missing or debatable evidence. These theories imply that in the beginning there was nothing – the 'nothing' exploded and, with random precision, gradually created everything.

Are we so foolhardy we would gamble everything on a belief in 'nothing', when everlasting life in Heaven can be ours by believing in the Lord Jesus Christ.

A wise gambler once wrote: 'I would rather live my life as if there is a God, and die to find out there isn't - than to live my life as if there isn't, and die to find out there is.'

Believing in 'nothing' is the ultimate, foolish gamble. If you are right you gain nothing – if you are wrong you lose everything. Alternatively, believing in the Lord Jesus Christ stacks all the odds in your favour. By believing in Him you have everything to gain and nothing to lose.
